In the meantime the Republicans engaged in bitter warfare and Helver-ing slipped back to Washington in a three cornered fight. Then Helverthree cornered fight. Then Helver-ing's enemies viewed the unusual specing's enemies viewed the unusual spec-tacle of Carney's reward. Carney drew the Concordia postoffice and Helvering's Concordia boosters drew packages of garden seeds and copies of Helvering's speech on federal farm loans and reserve banks. Of course no one ever openly charged that Hel-vering and Carney were "just fooling" when Carney made his race for con-gress, but their subsequent evidences gress, but their subsequent evidences of brotherly love resulted in a general agreement to pay all outstanding ac-counts on election day.

Harger Will Run. The Republicans of the district will now try to limit the number of candi-dates in the fight for the congressionfight, although he has not made formal announcement. With Harger in the race, Senator Walter E. Wilson of Washington will drop out. W. A. Calderhead of Marysville, Senator Hanna and W. T. Roche of Clay Center have also been mentioned. Several other men may be considered. But the wise leaders will try to prevent a factional district in 1916.
